business continuity

The success of your organization—as well as its professional reputation—depends on the smooth, continual operation of your messaging servers. GSX Groupware Solutions helps by automatically performing monitoring and maintenance tasks on the following platforms:

Lotus® Domino® • Sametime® • BlackBerry® • Exchange

More than 2,000 installations rely on GSX Groupware Solutions to help them monitor their enterprise messaging servers.

Your messaging servers are the backbone of your organization's electronic communications. So much so that even a small disruption in service can result in big problems.

That's why GSX Groupware Solutions developed a suite of tools to provide automated monitoring, alerting, and reporting—at an extremely detailed level—for the most commonly used messaging platforms.

Automated functionality allows you to stay on top of your messaging servers without burdening staff with day-to-day maintenance tasks.

Don't let interruptions and downtime affect your enterprise communications—and your company's reputation. Deliver reliable performance with GSX Groupware Solutions.

A simple yet powerful monitoring solution.

1 No code on servers.

GSX Monitor resides on a separate workstation or monitoring server so there is no need to install code on any server. Avoid the resource demands and deployment complexity that typically accompany such a setup. Realize immediate value without long deployment timelines.

2 Detailed reporting and accurate, real-time monitoring. GSX Monitor goes much deeper than merely utilizing historical log information or simply pinging the box. You get a global, real-time view of your entire server network.

3 User modeling. By performing cyclical user transactions, GSX Monitor continuously tests and confirms that key resources are truly available to your end users.
